Morison KSi shortlisted for Association of the Year 2016

“The new billion dollar kid on the global accounting association block” (as the ICAEW publication Economia described the newly merged Morison KSi) has been shortlisted for Association of the Year in the prestigious International Accounting Bulletin and The Accountant 2016 awards.

The shortlisting is entirely based on the success of the merger, which allowed two quality-led associations, to take a quantum leap to a single leading position amongst international associations.

These awards are fiercely contested, and it is a considerable achievement to be shortlisted.

The winner will be announced on the 6 October 2016 at an industry awards dinner.

Morison KSi would like to thank all member firms for their continued support and on-going commitment.
